

unicef
联合国儿童基金会

中国水利
CHINA WATER

中国水利水电出版传媒集团有限公司
China Water and Power Publishing & Media Group Ltd.

Ali and the Flying Lake

Hans (Chinese)

中国水利水电出版社
China Water & Power Press

Ali and the Flying Lake

Hans (Chinese)

中国水利水电出版社
www.waterpub.com.cn

· 北京 ·

On one sunny day, Ali and his friends went for a picnic.

But they discovered that they didn't have enough water. Ali decided to fetch some water from a nearby lake.

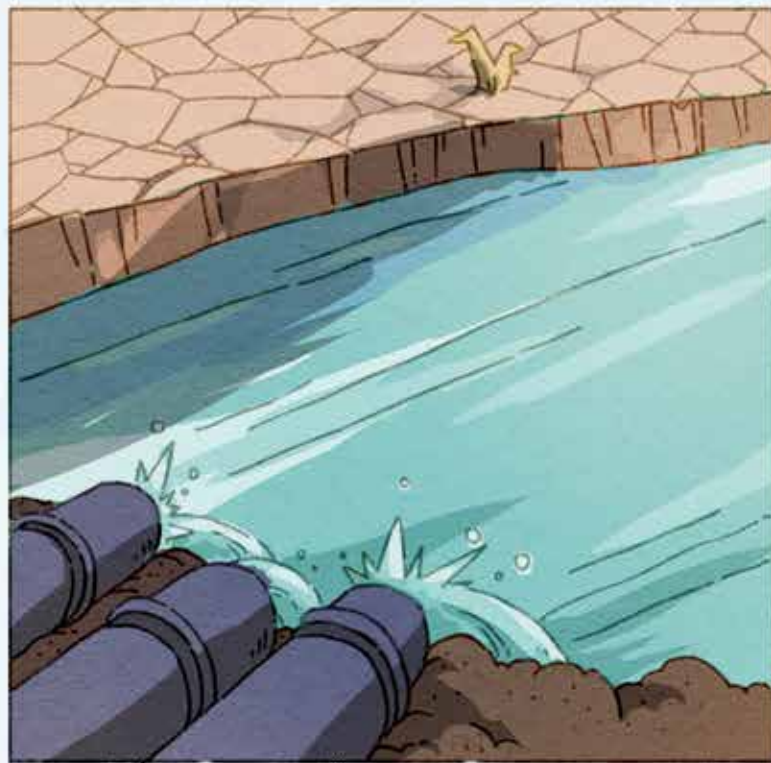

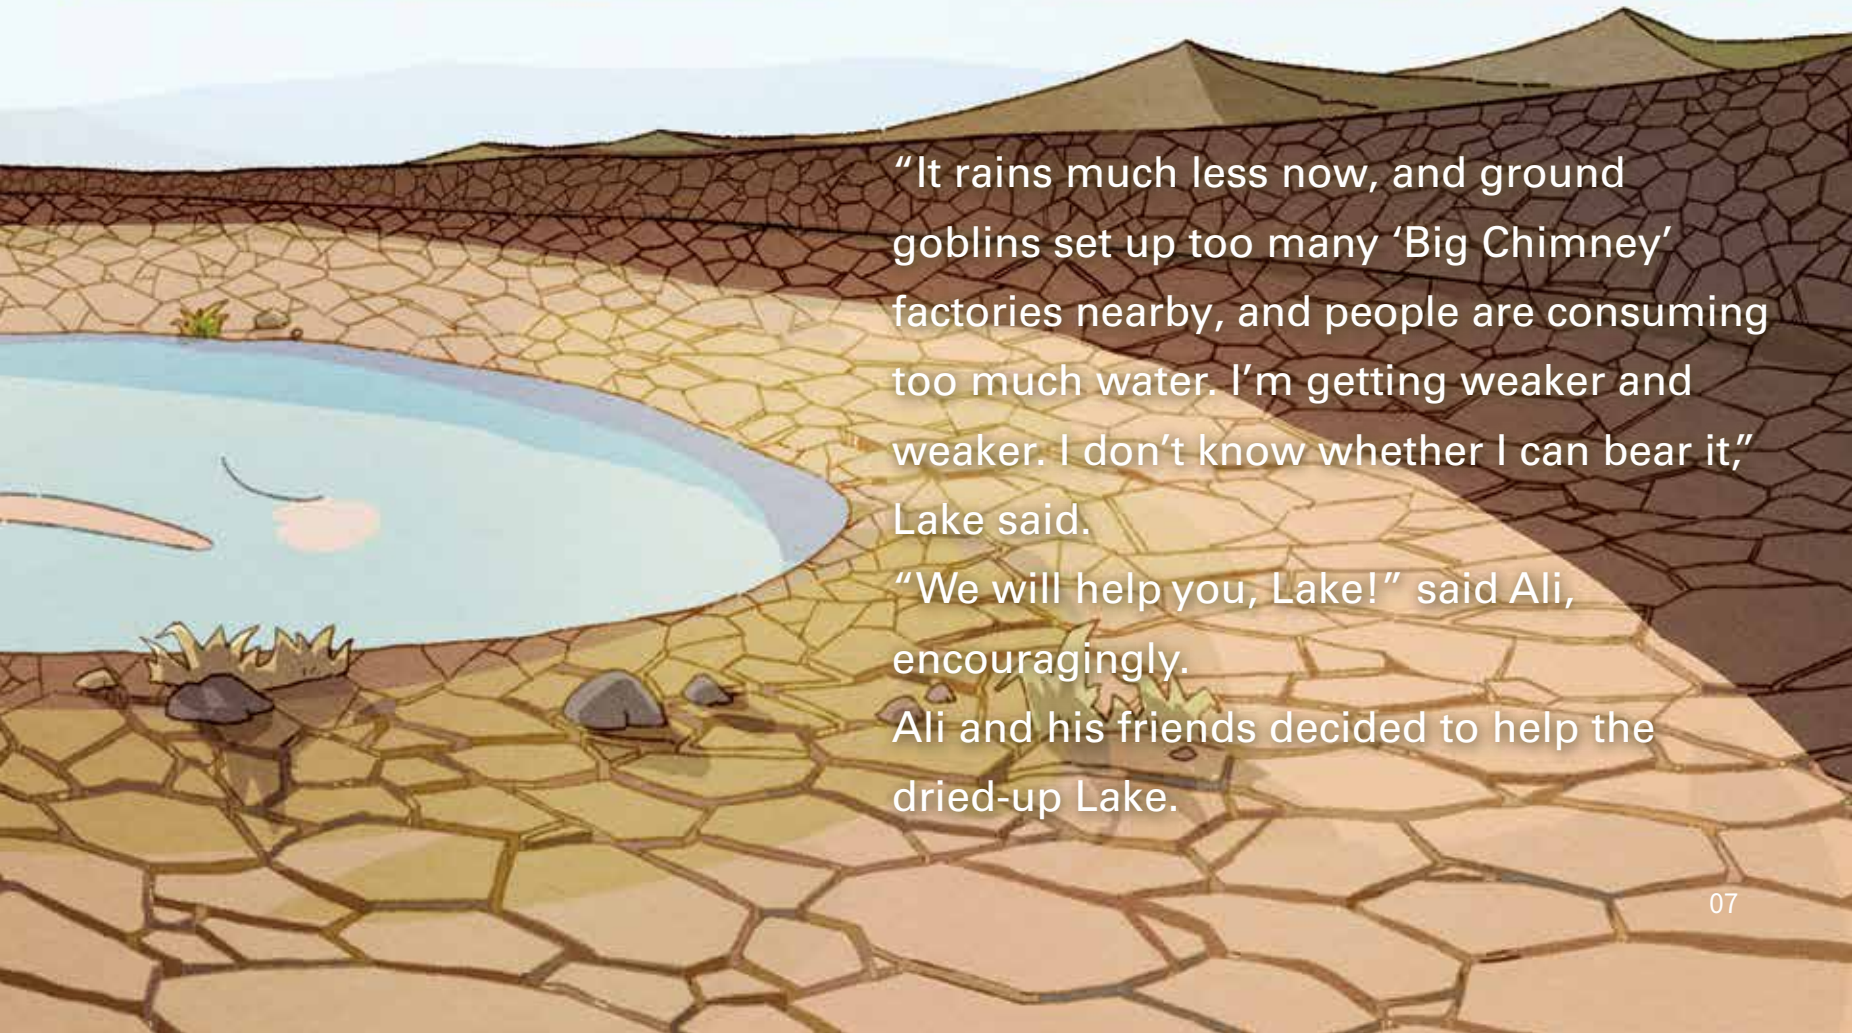

When he arrived, Ali found that the lake had become much smaller, the water plants were dead, and the lakebed was cracked. Suddenly, Ali heard a wheezing sound. It was Lake.

"It rains much less now, and ground goblins set up too many 'Big Chimney' factories nearby, and people are consuming too much water. I'm getting weaker and weaker. I don't know whether I can bear it," Lake said.

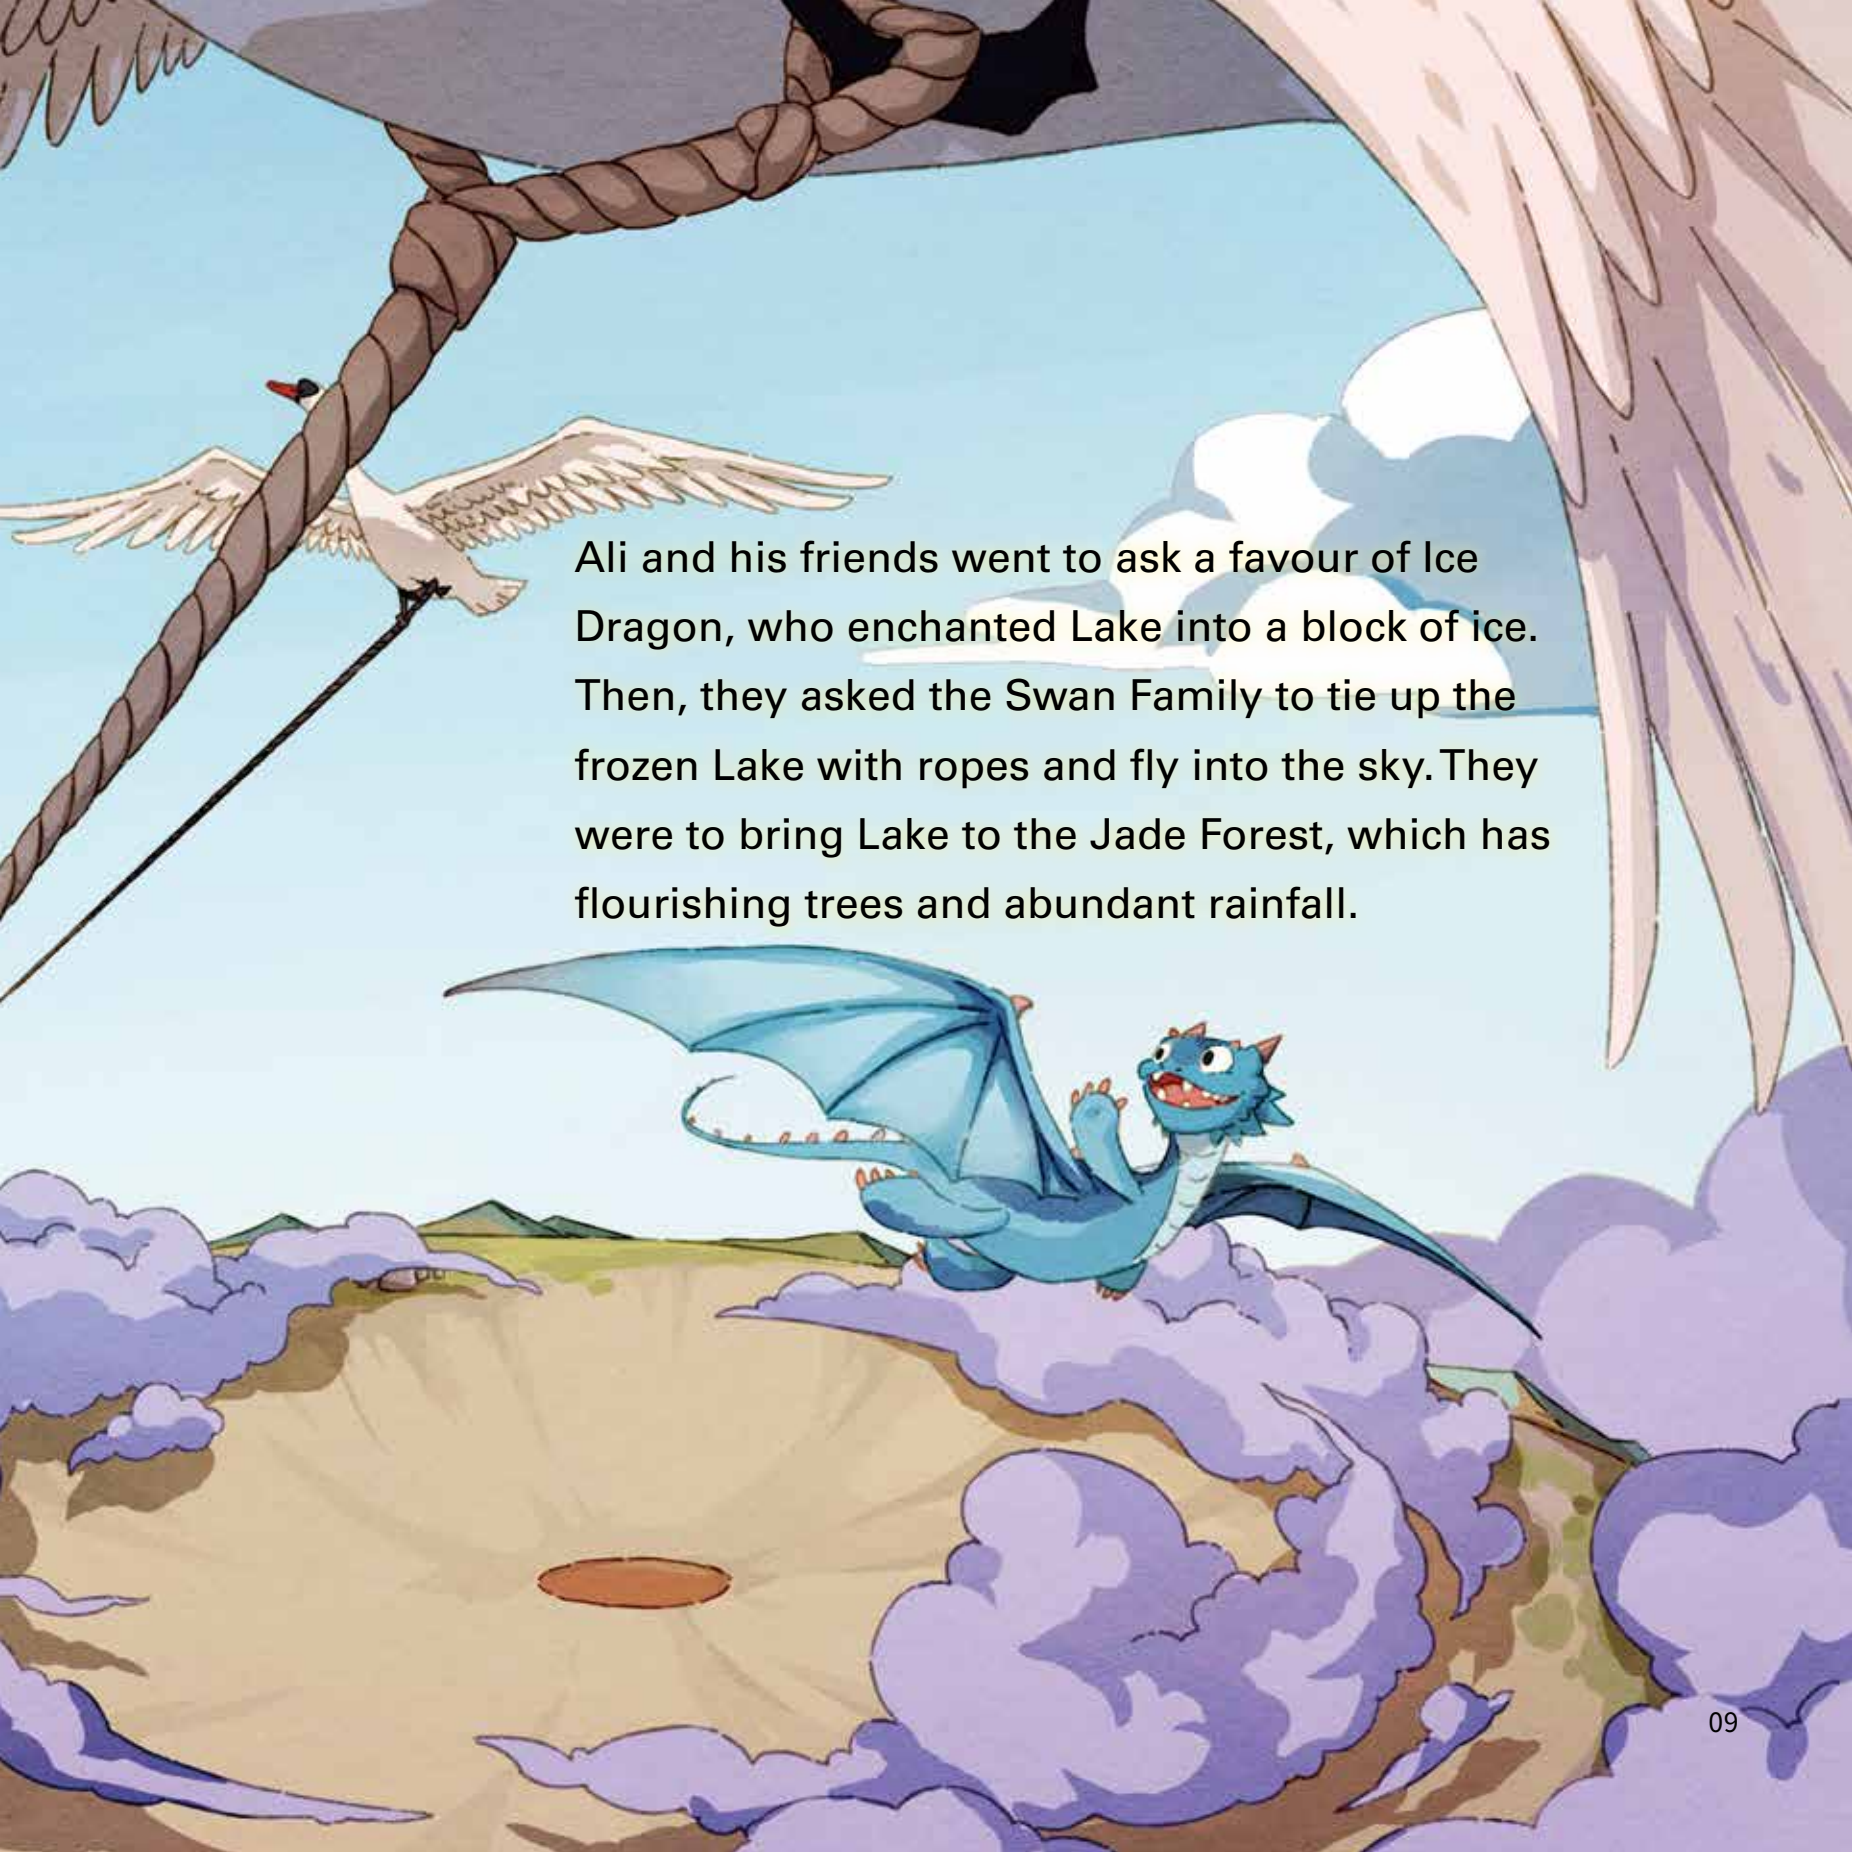

"We will help you, Lake!" said Ali, encouragingly.

Ali and his friends decided to help the dried-up Lake.

Ali and his friends went to ask a favour of Ice Dragon, who enchanted Lake into a block of ice. Then, they asked the Swan Family to tie up the frozen Lake with ropes and fly into the sky. They were to bring Lake to the Jade Forest, which has flourishing trees and abundant rainfall.

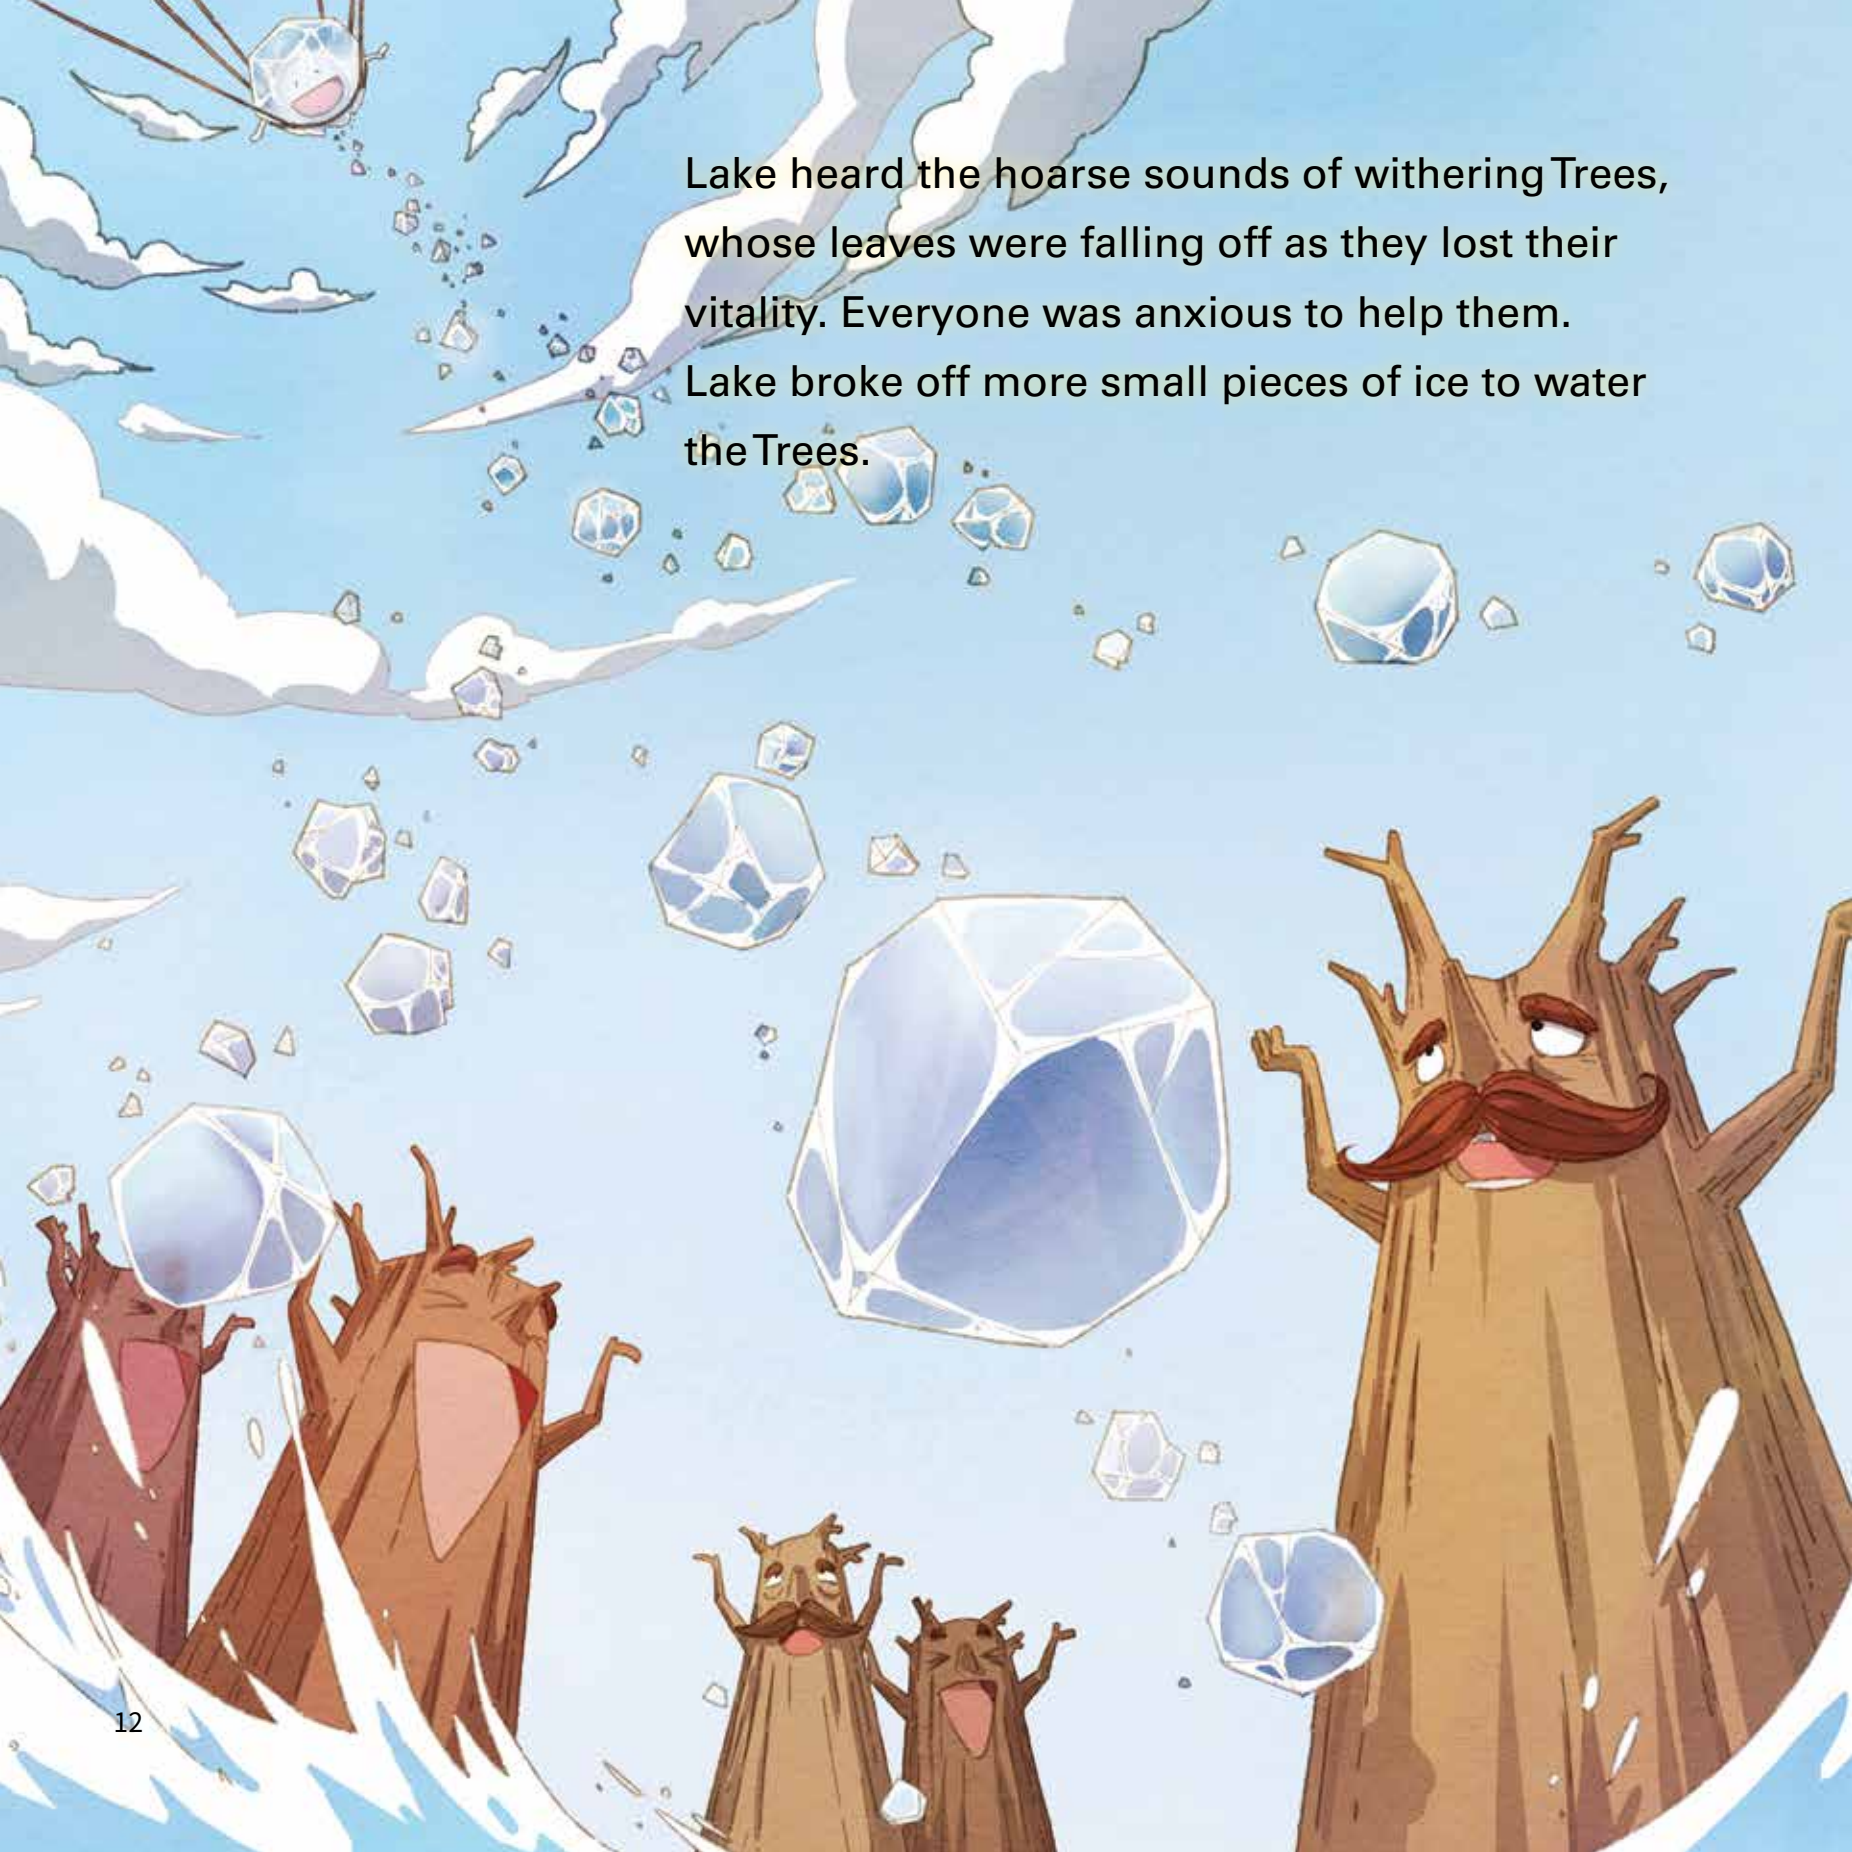

Lake was exhausted and sleepy during the trip.

Suddenly, Lake saw the Swallow Family. The young swallow was very thirsty and was shivering. Without hesitating, Lake split off a small piece of ice and offered it to them.

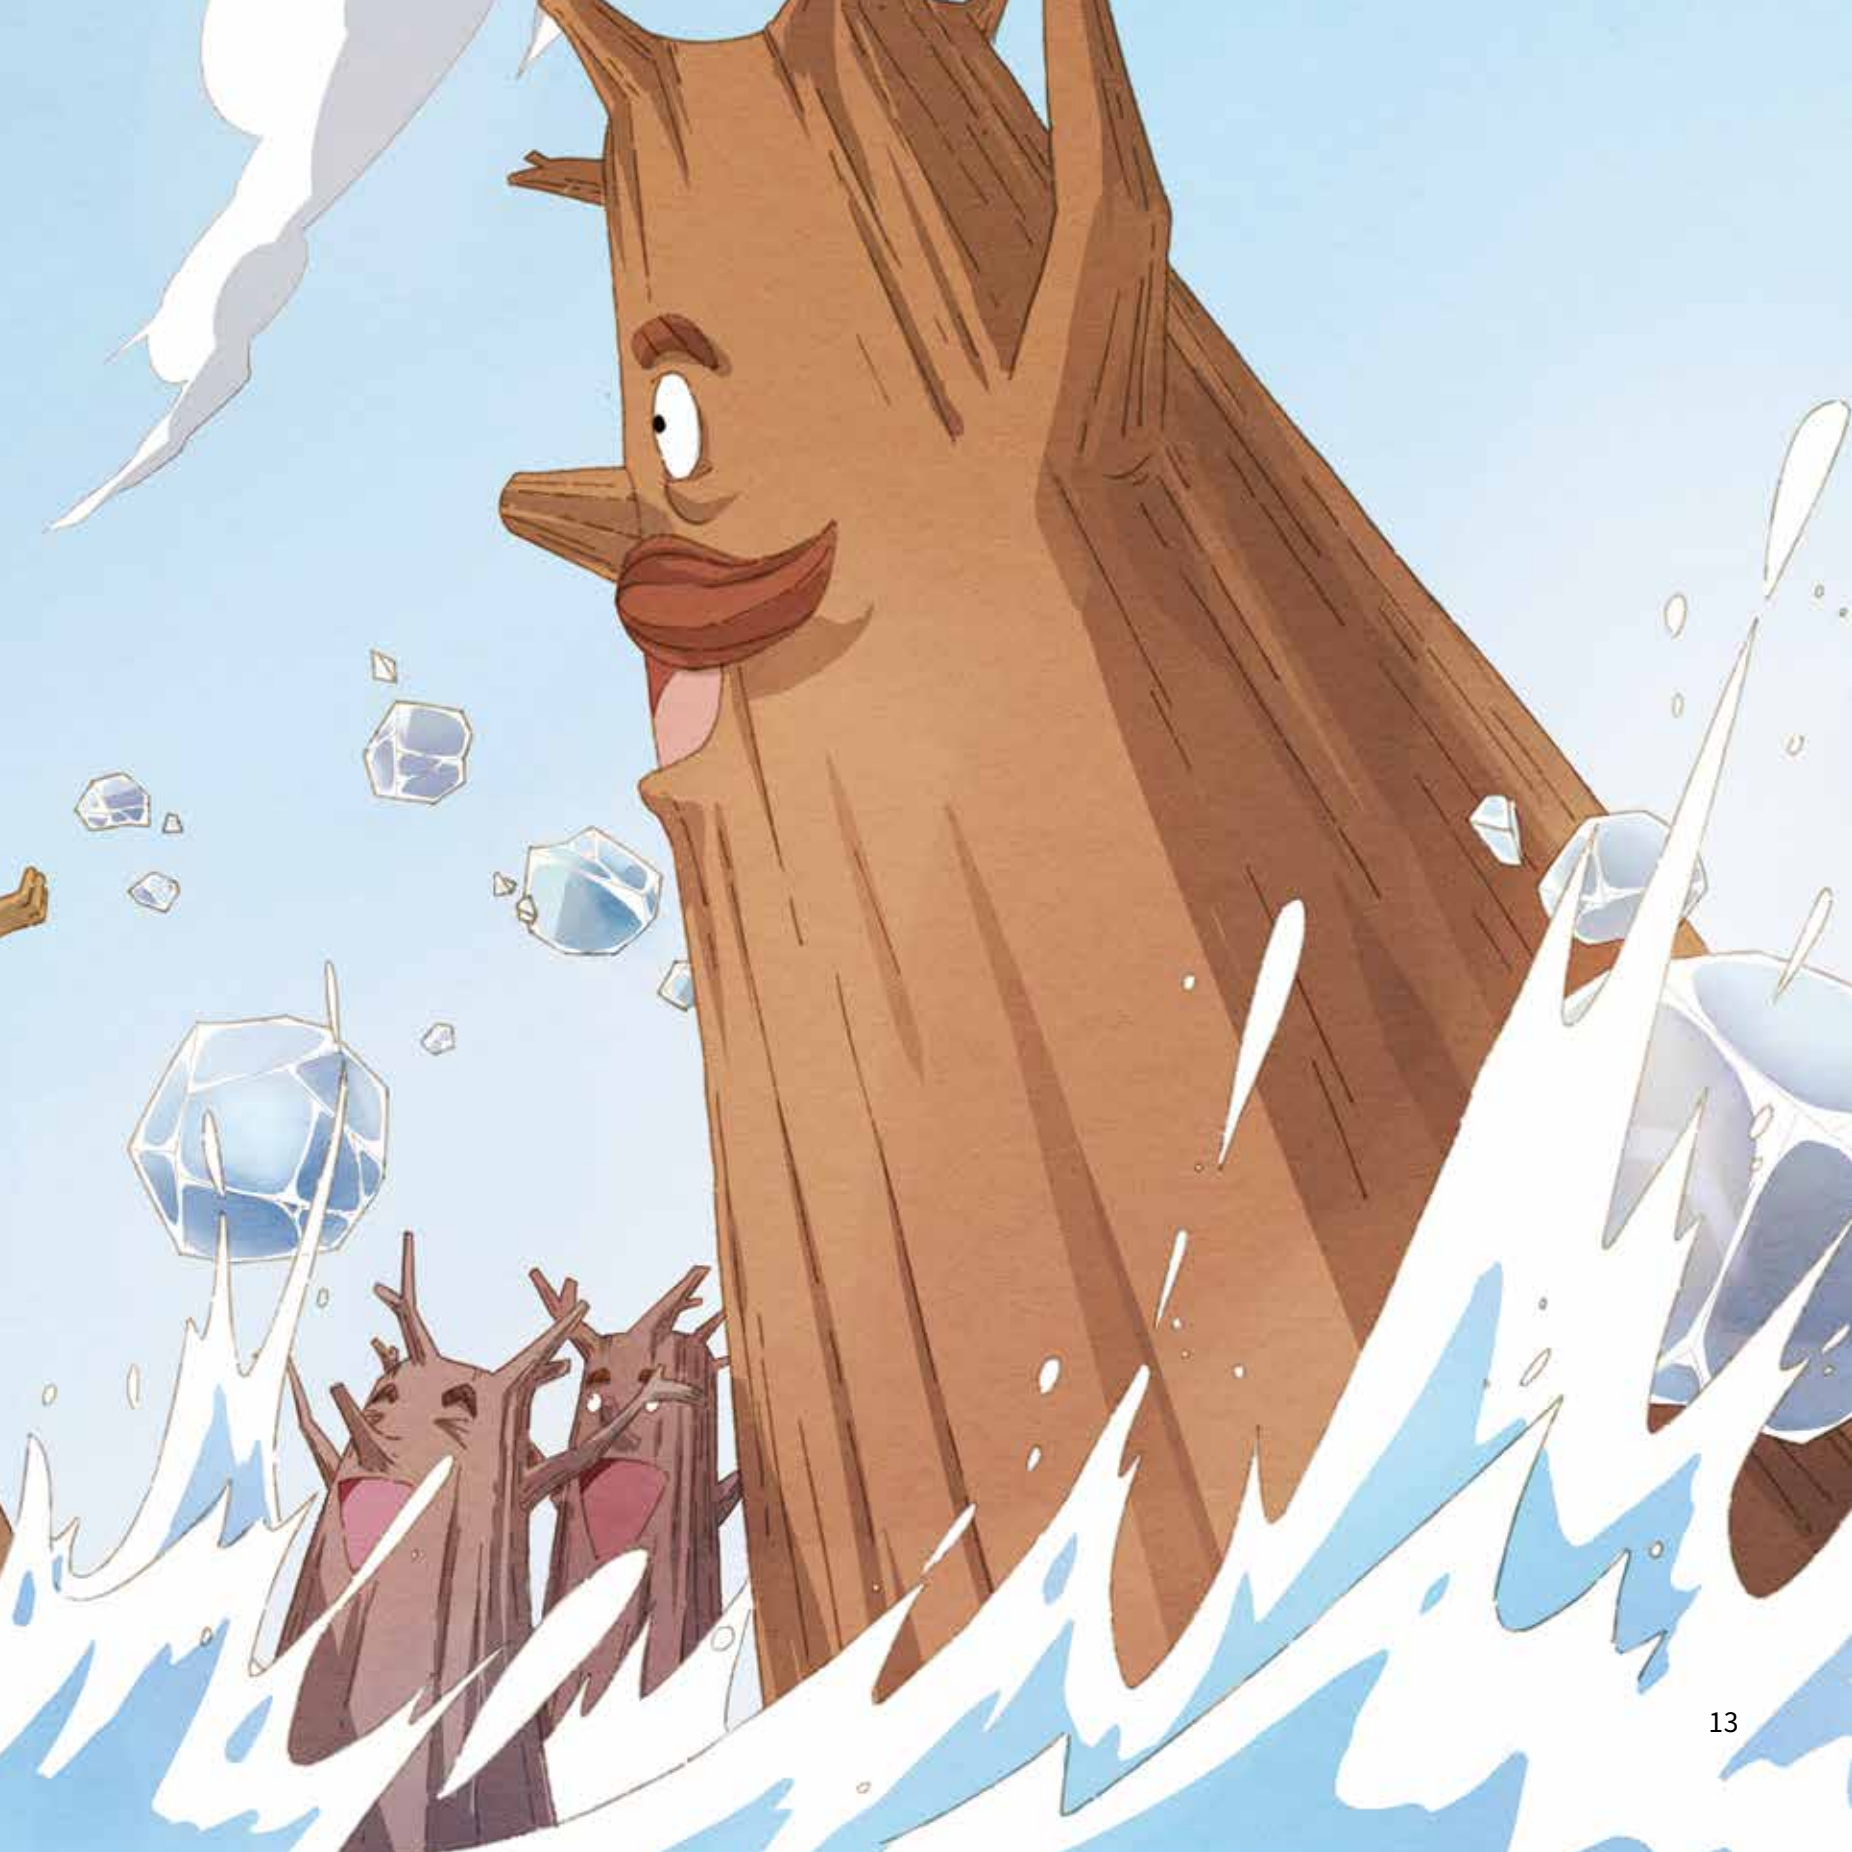

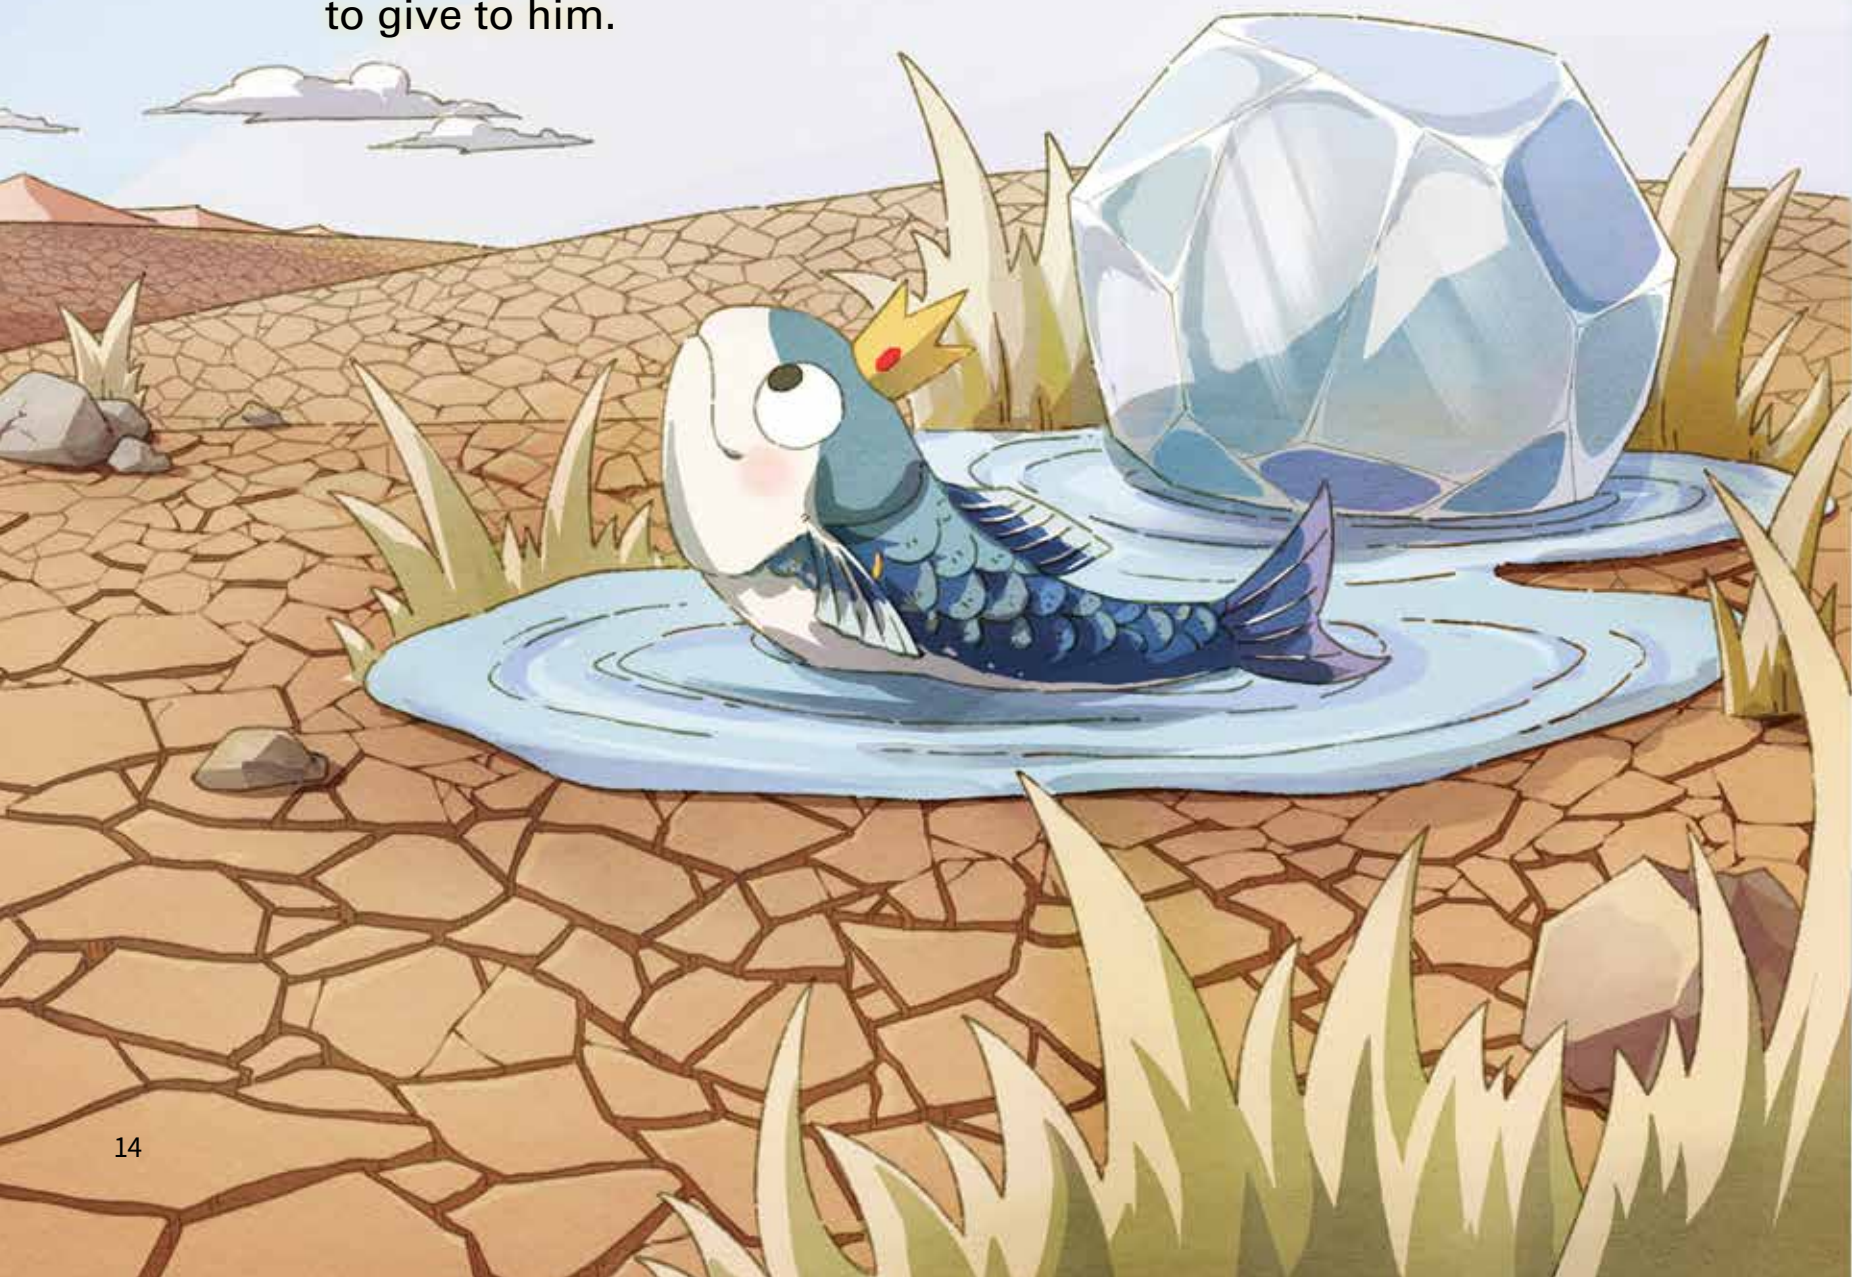

Lake heard the hoarse sounds of withering Trees, whose leaves were falling off as they lost their vitality. Everyone was anxious to help them.
Lake broke off more small pieces of ice to water the Trees.

Then, Lake saw Prince Fish, stranded and dying in a drying pond. Lake broke off another piece to give to him.

Flying across the sky, Lake helped all those in difficulty, but as he did, he became smaller and weaker. Soon the ropes would not hold him any longer.

Cracks were emerging all over his body. "Hold on, Lake, we have almost made it to the Jade Forest," Ali said.

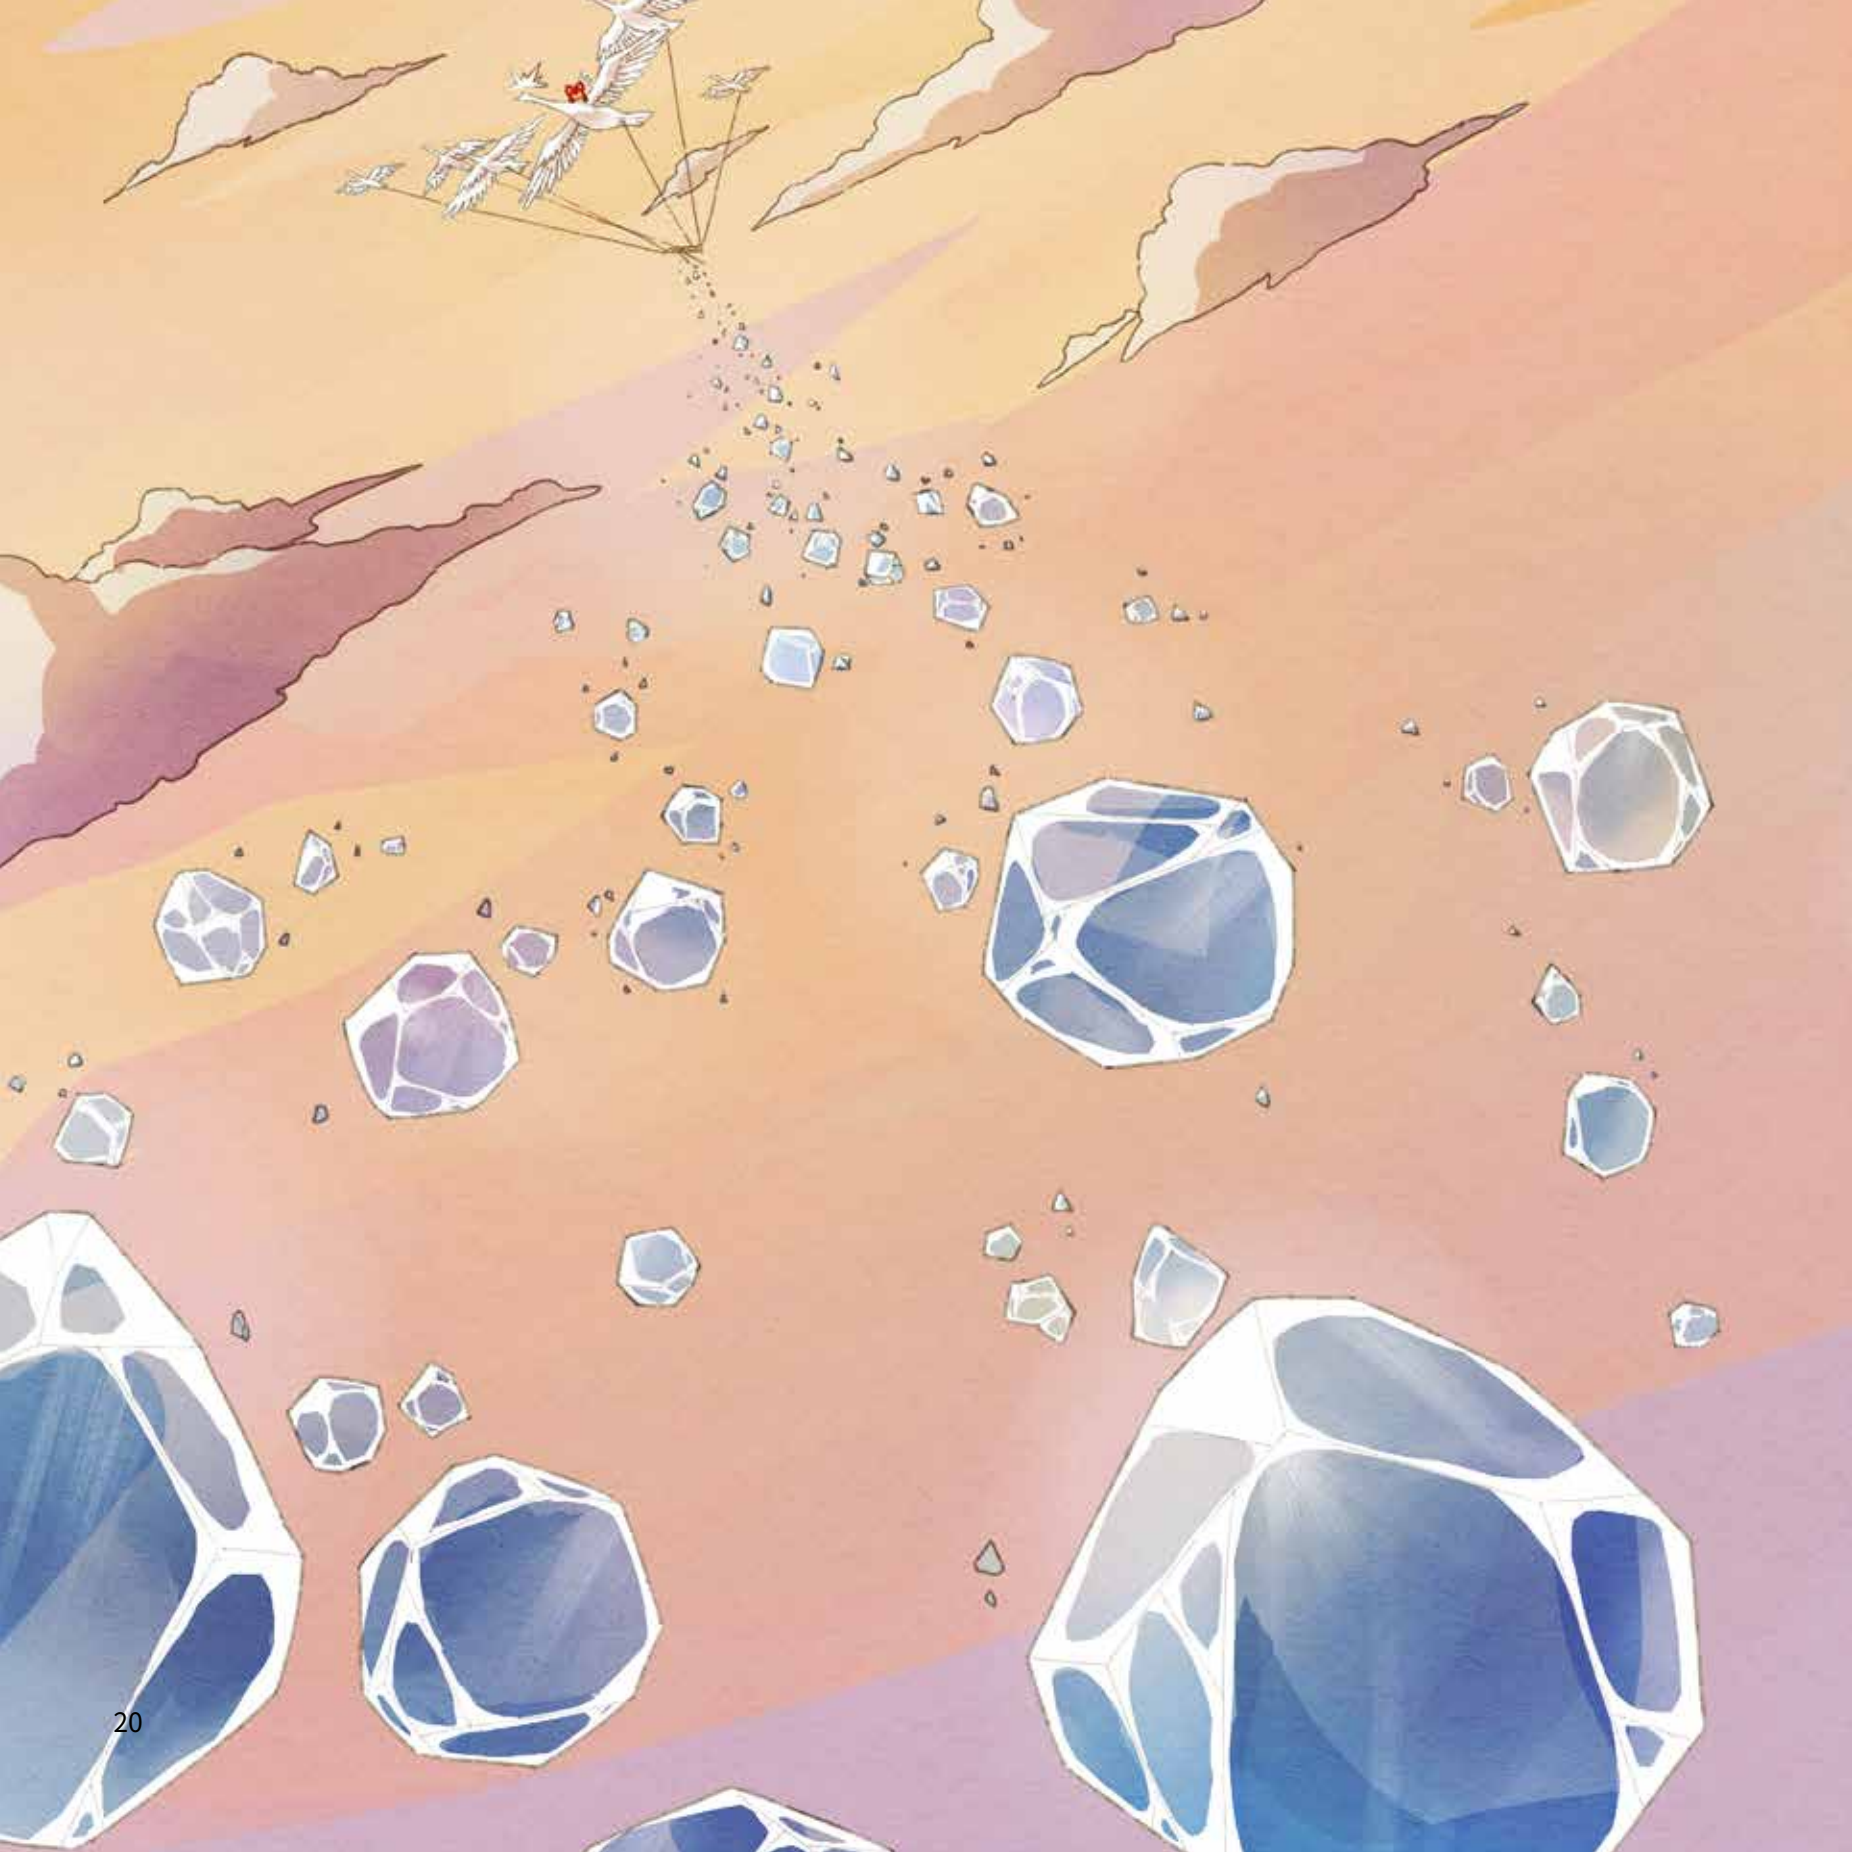

Suddenly, they heard cries from a nearby village.
The water there was polluted, crops were withering and children's mouths were parched.
Lake still wanted to help them.

“If you keep helping them, you will disappear!” friends tried to persuade him. Lake looked again at himself and at the people around him, and split himself further.

“Lake...”

Lake disintegrated and fell to the ground.

People had water to use and could regrow crops. The village came to life again. Everyone was grateful for Lake's sacrifice.

Lake's biggest and last piece disappeared in the Jade Forest.

Ali and his friends rushed into the forest, but they could only find a tiny piece of ice. They were heartbroken.

Mika Rabbit said: "There must be other small pieces of Lake. We can try to gather them together to save him."

They began collecting the small pieces of Lake, which were scattered here and there.

But it was useless. His friends didn't know what to do.

Just then, someone patted Ali on the head. Everyone who had been helped by Lake had come!

"We can transfer water from afar to save Lake!"
Uncle Farmer proposed.

The Trees started to dig a channel. They were big and could dig quickly.

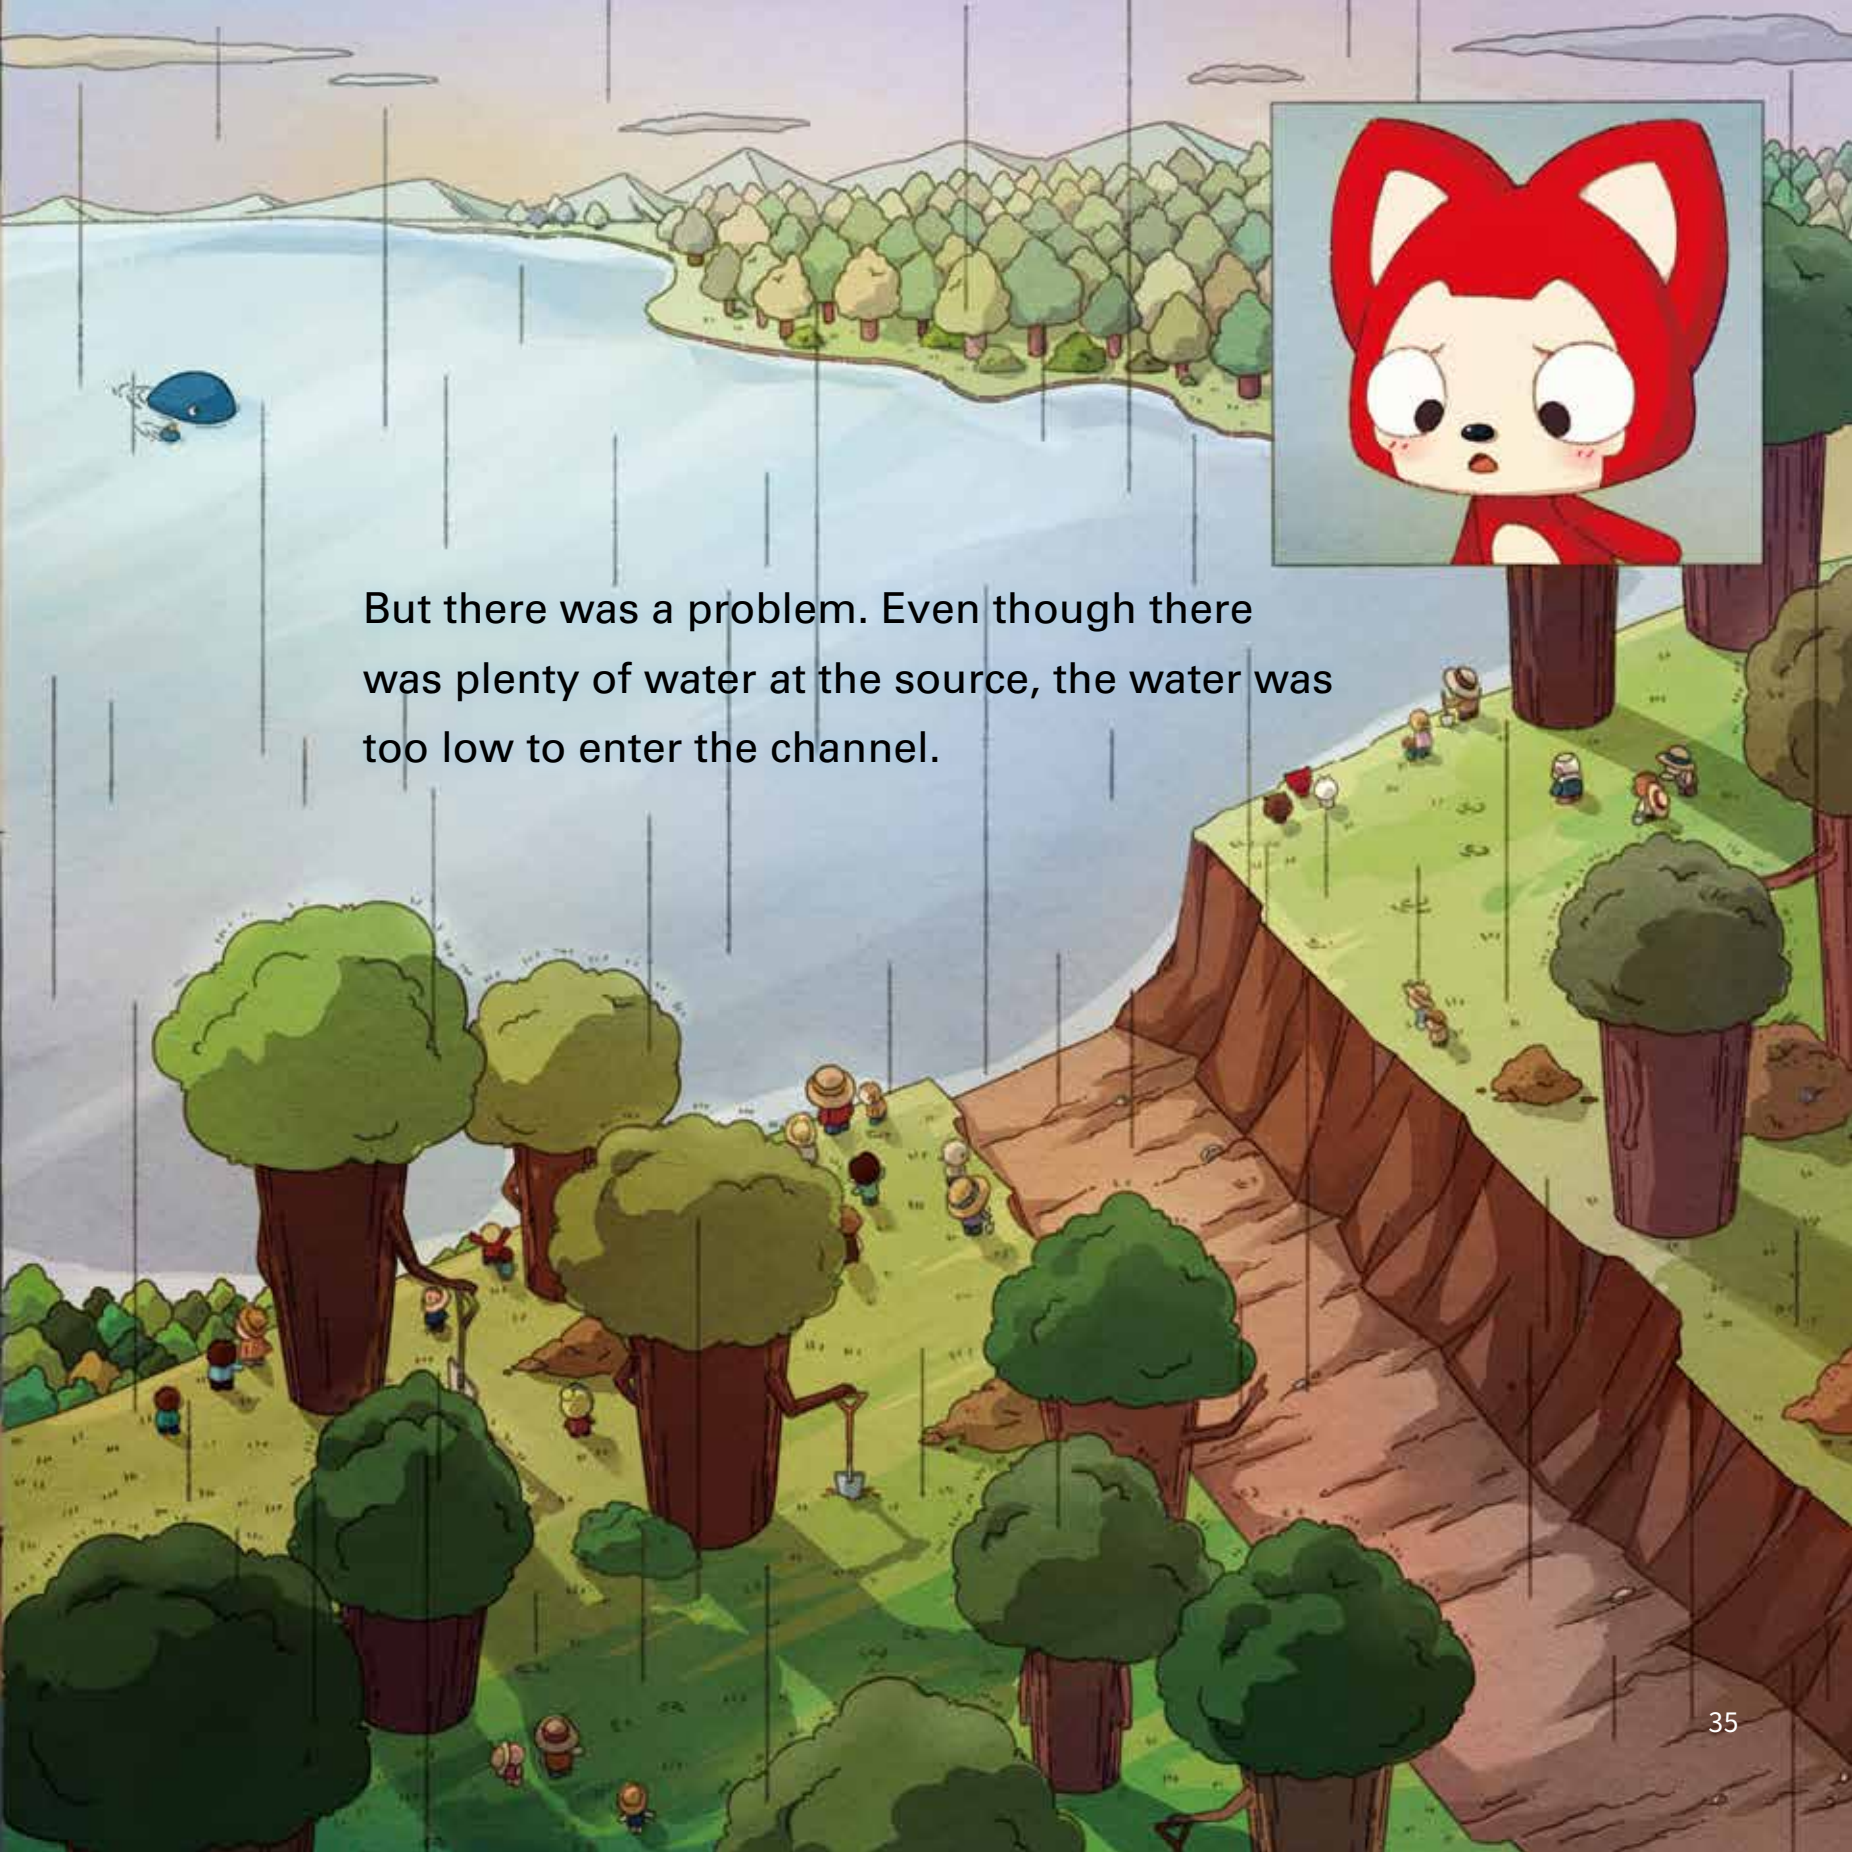

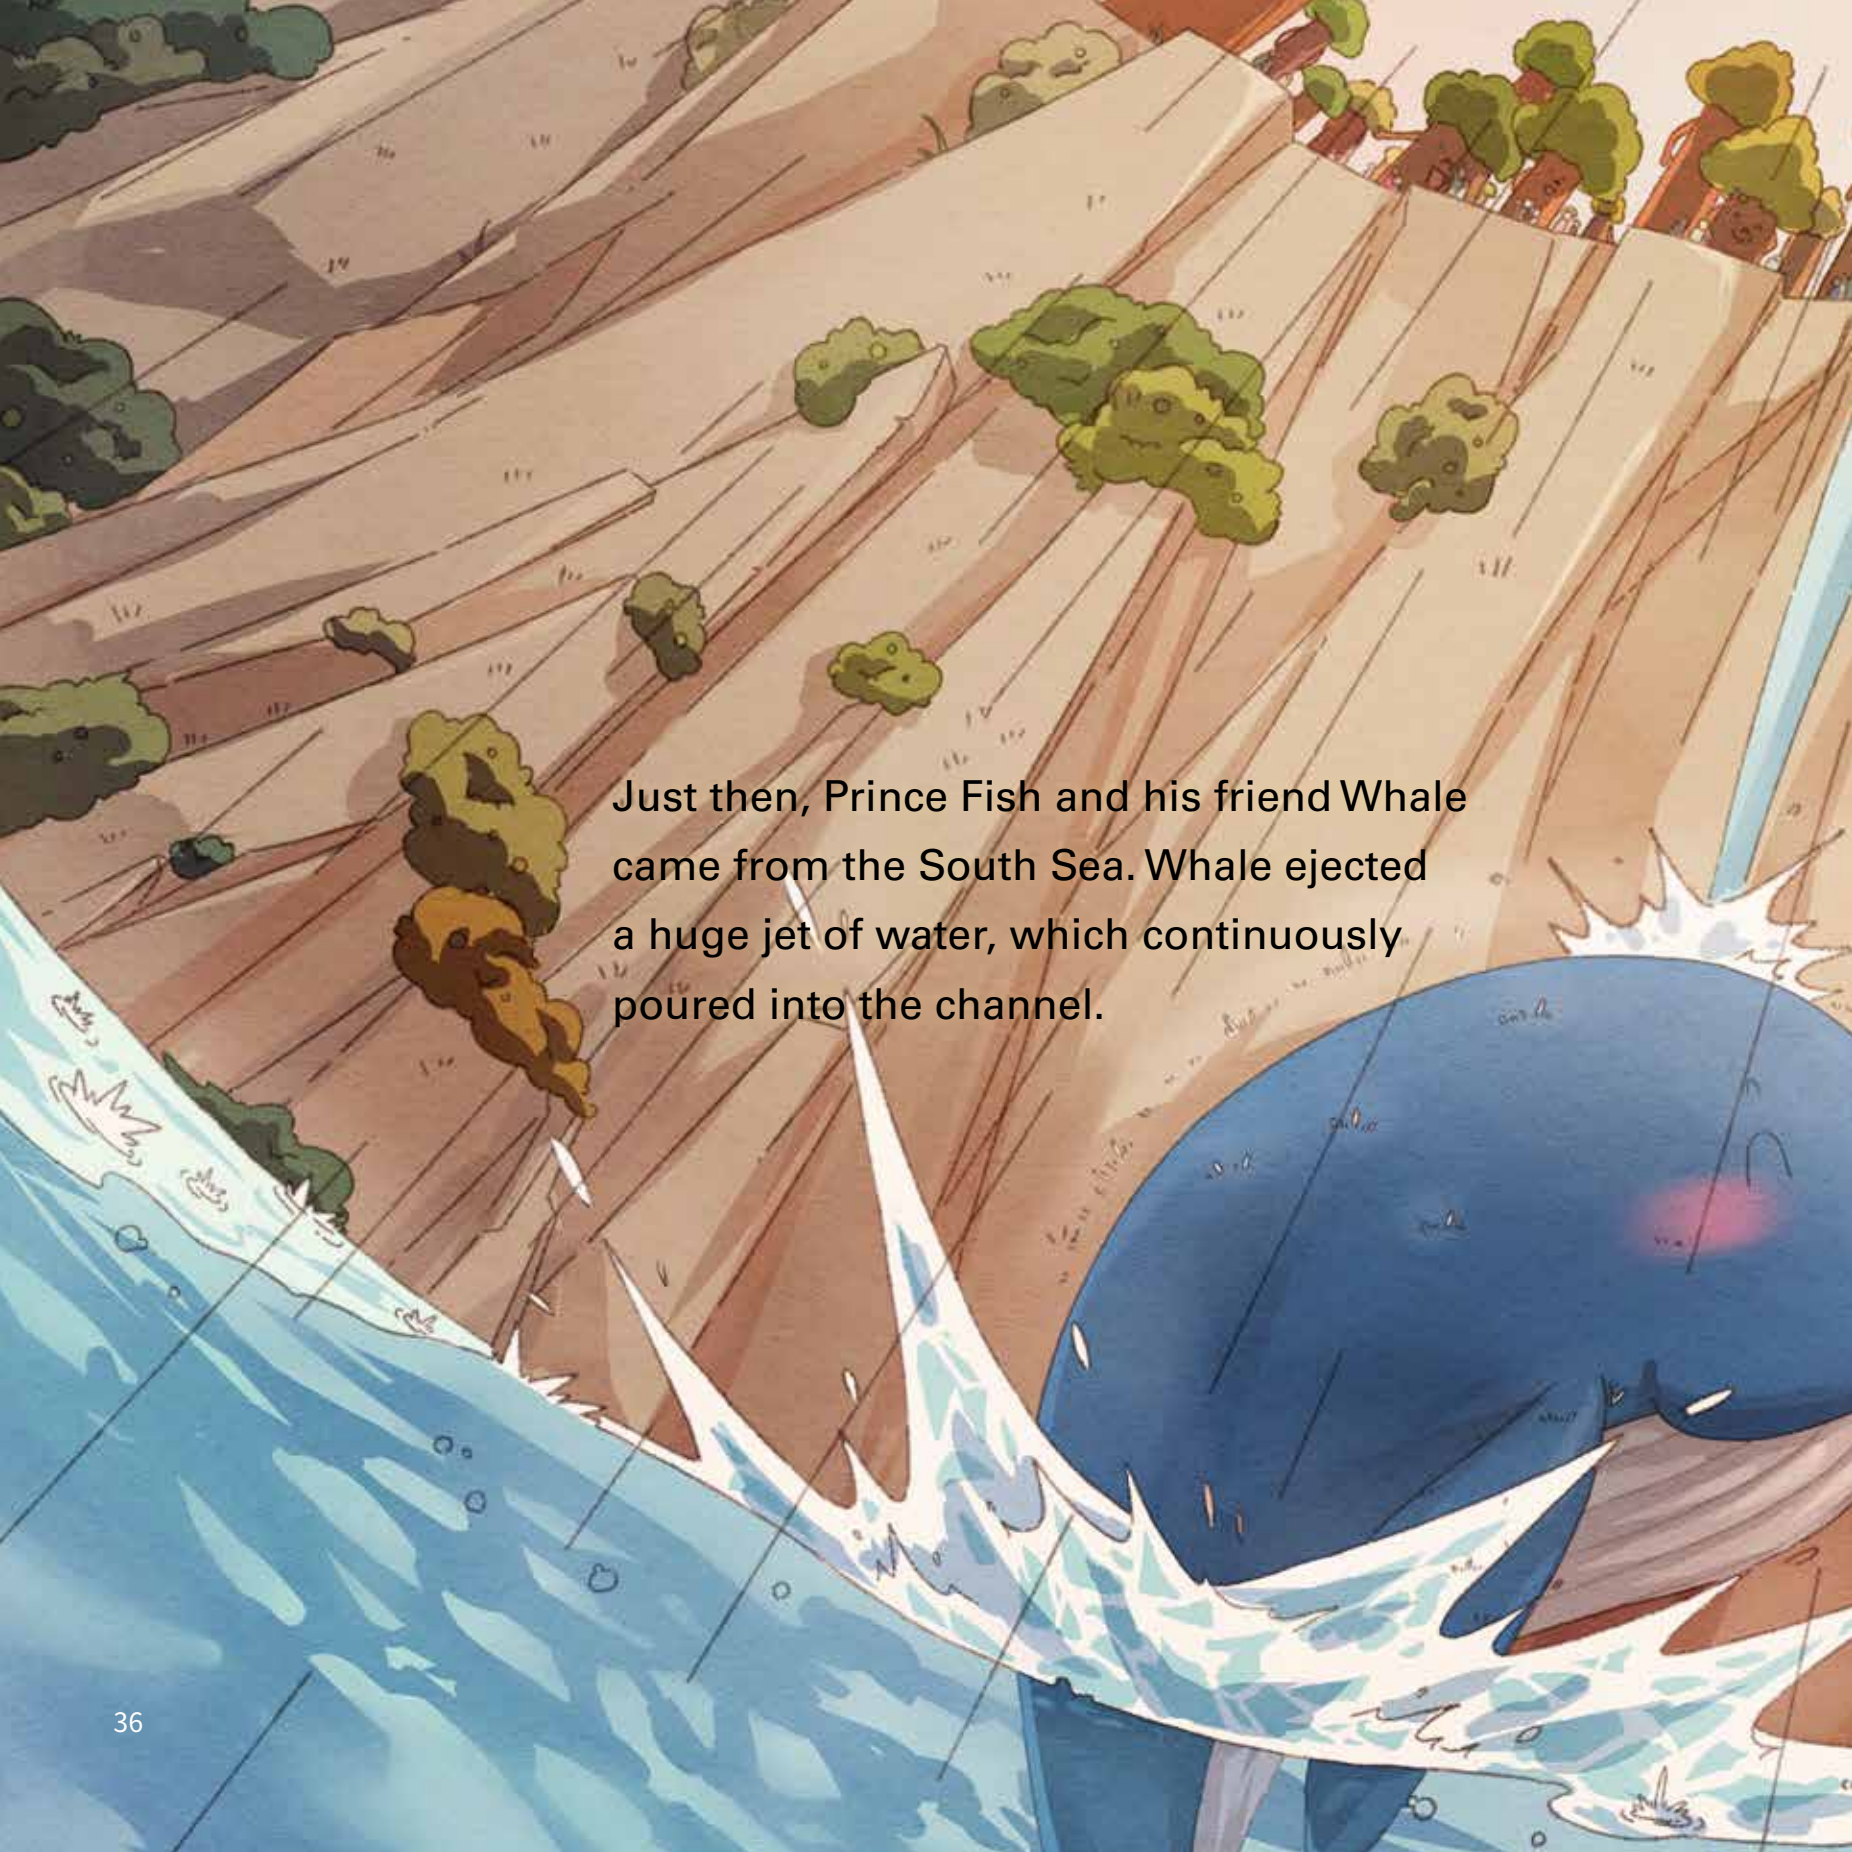

The Swallow Family brought the best seeds and planted them beside the channel.

But there was a problem. Even though there was plenty of water at the source, the water was too low to enter the channel.

Just then, Prince Fish and his friend Whale came from the South Sea. Whale ejected a huge jet of water, which continuously poured into the channel.

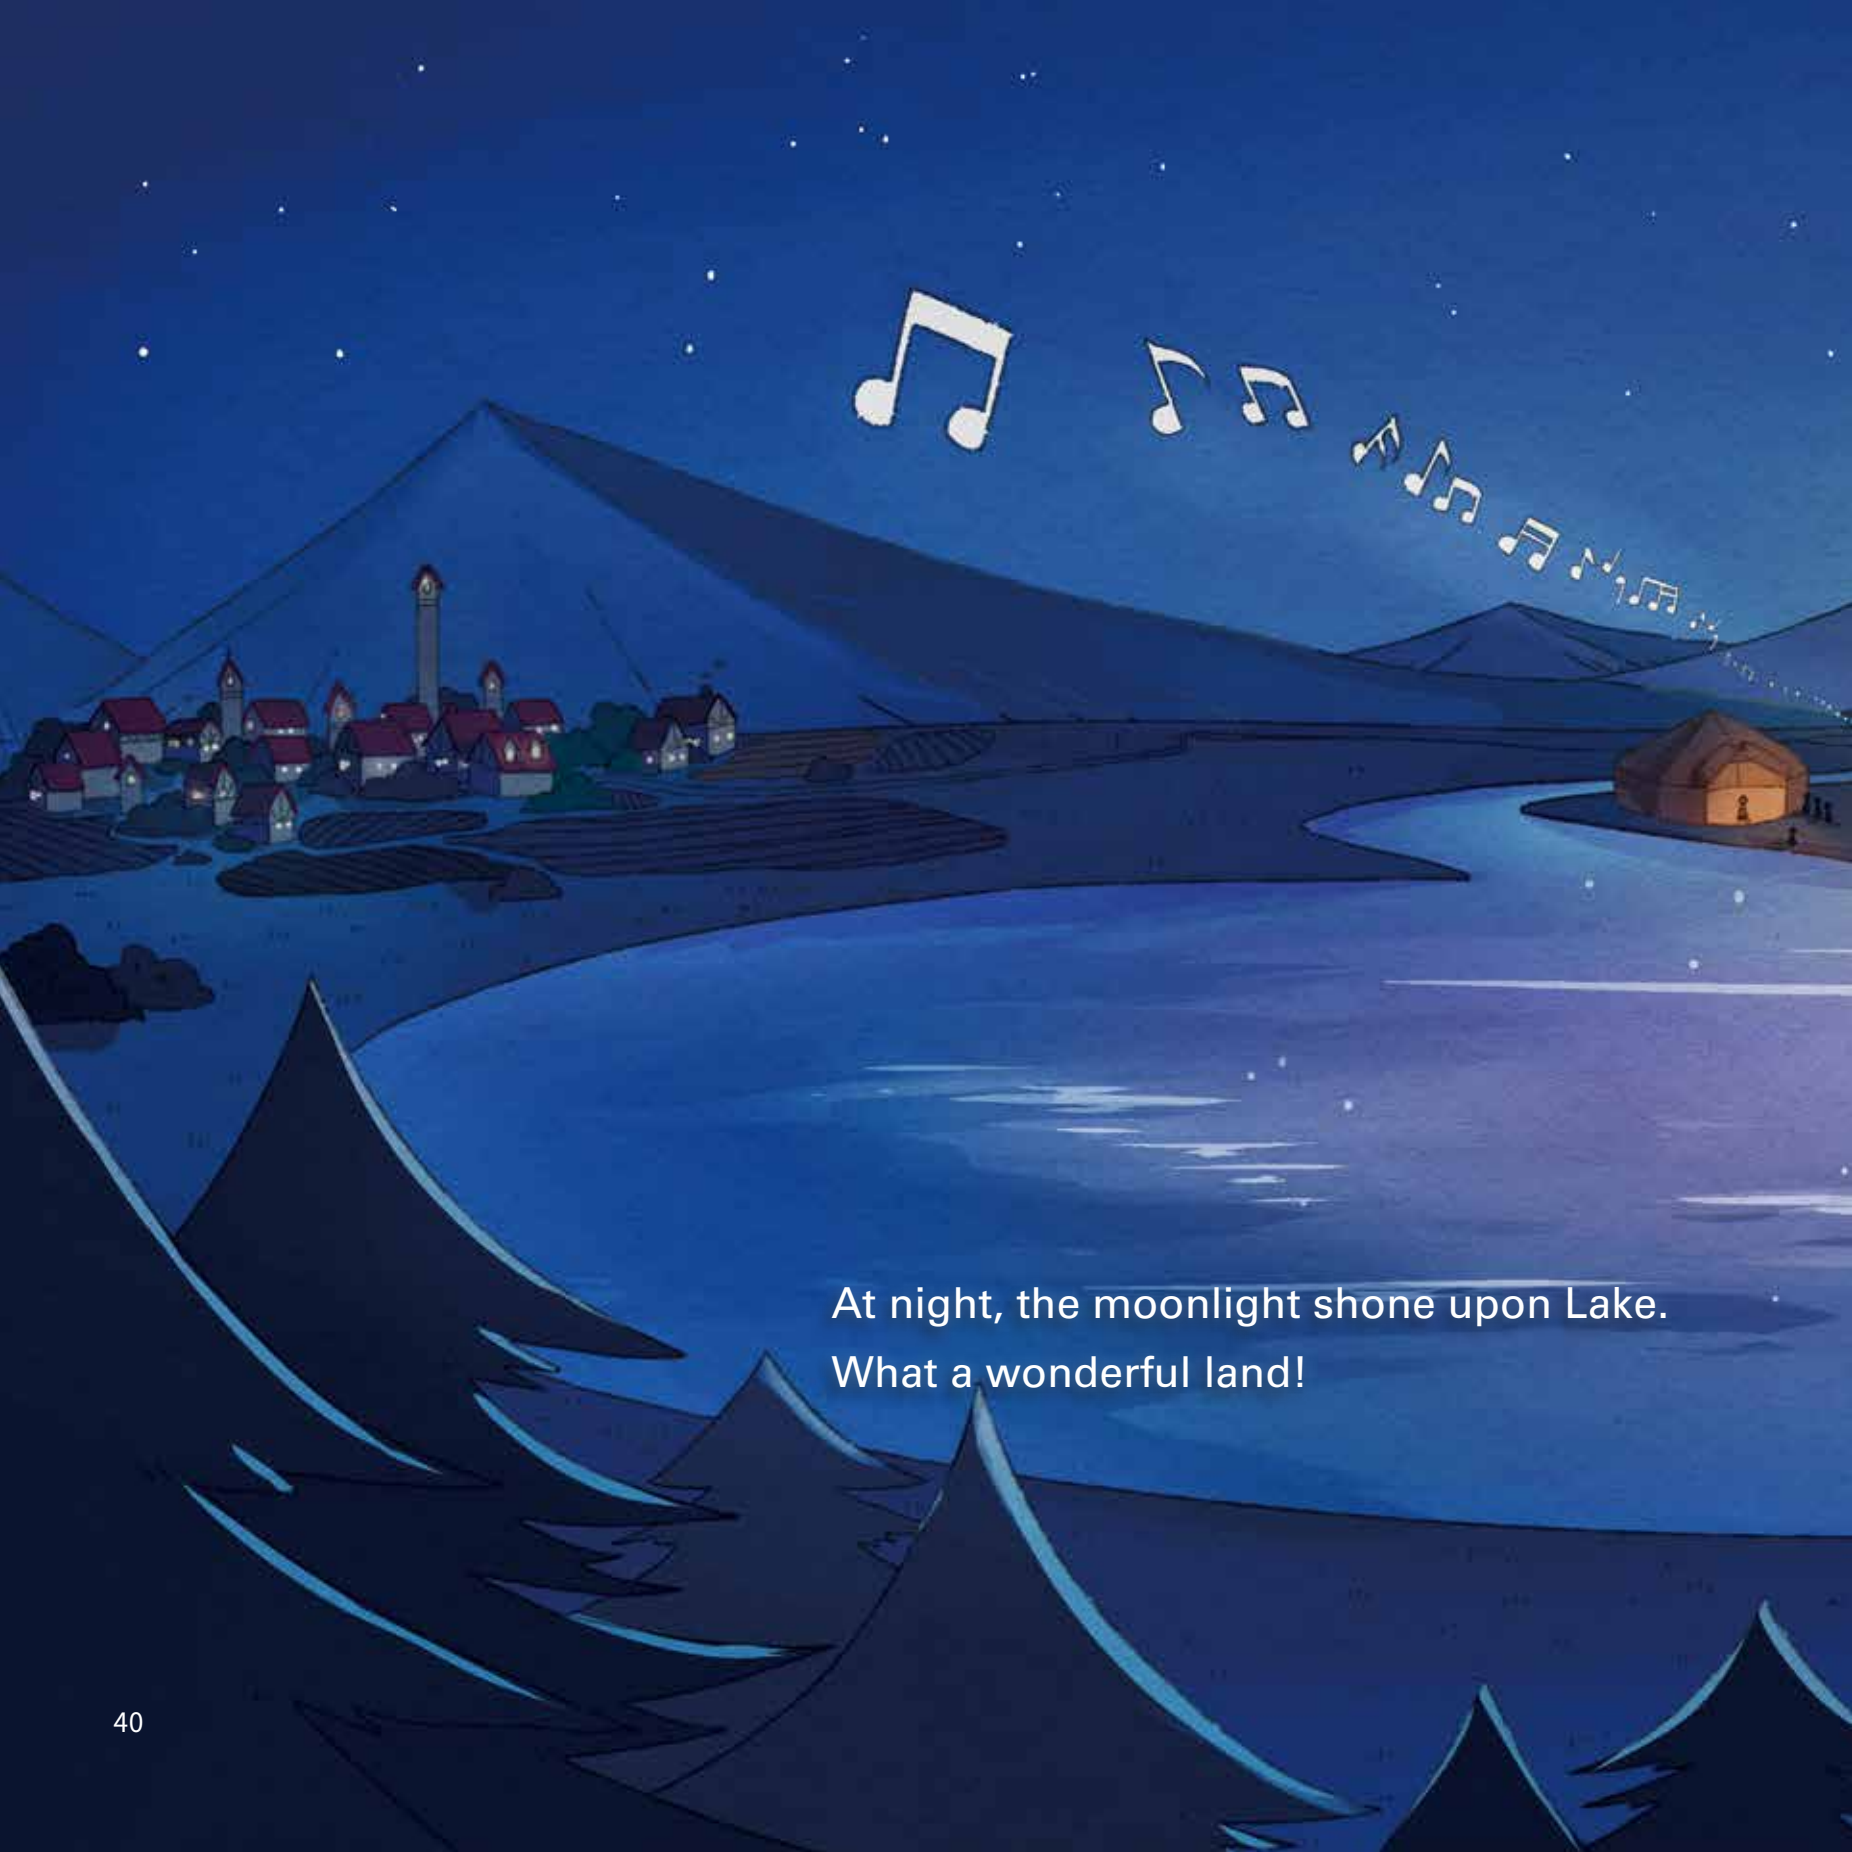

Lake was revived. All his friends gathered around to celebrate.

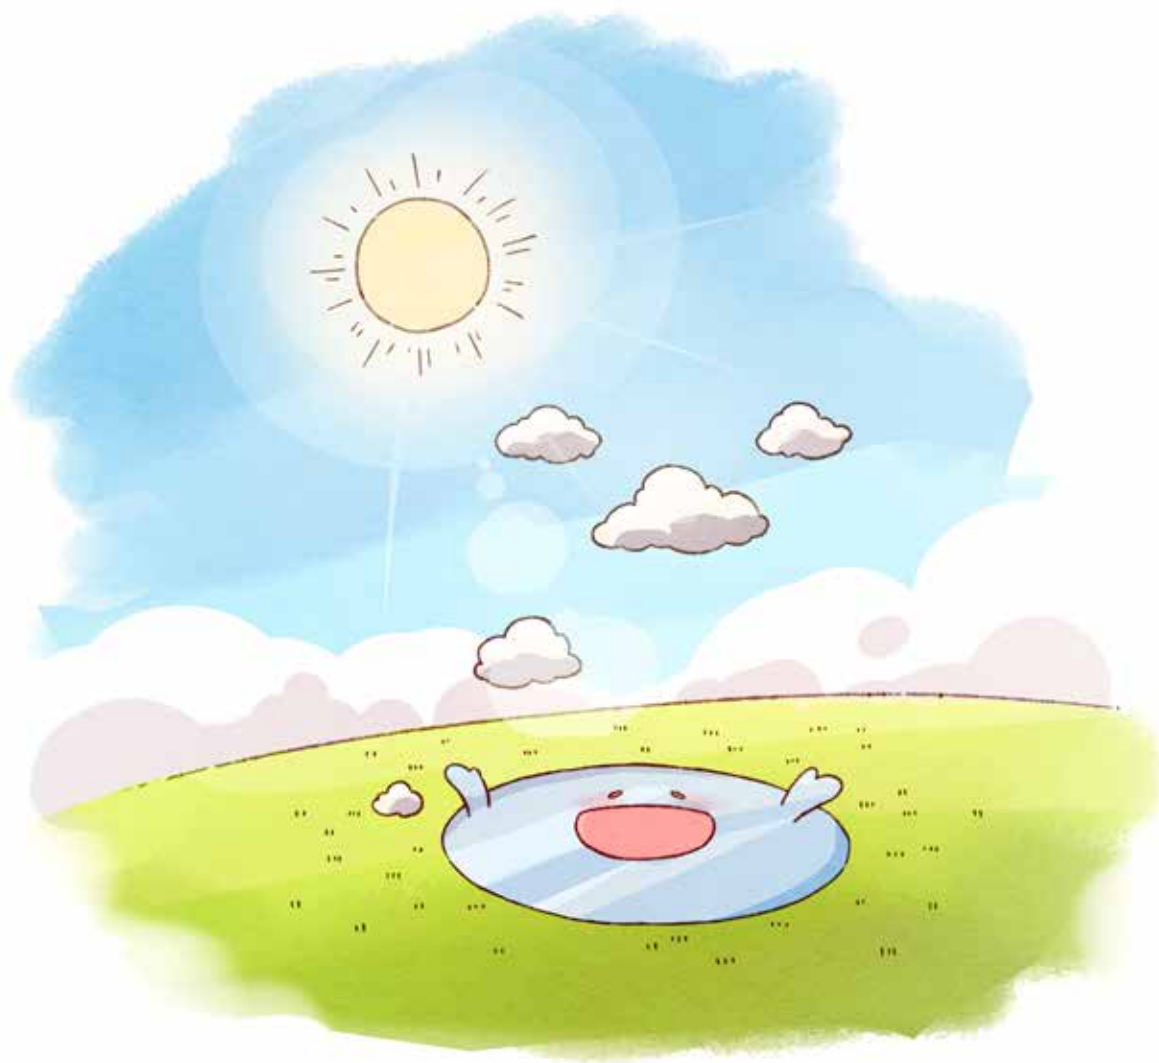

At night, the moonlight shone upon Lake.
What a wonderful land!

Advisory Organization:

National Water Conservation Office:

Li Feng   Zhang Yawen   Yang Rujia

Publicity and Education Center, Ministry of Water Resources:

Zhou Wenfeng   Shao Ziping   Huo Chuanlu

Planner-In-Chief:	Ying Youfeng
Planner:	Wang Li   Ma Aimei   Huang Huiming
Executive Planner:	Fan Dongyang
Editor:	Wang Zhiyuan   Fan Dongyang
Supervisor:	Max
Production Assistant:	Bei Shanqi   FL
Coordinator:	Jr. E,   Ginger

微信号: Waterpup-Pro

唯一官方微信服务平台

微信号: alidreaming

关注阿狸微信

绿色印刷产品